
QUEENS' COLLEGE

1940–1941

NOTE

It would be of great service to the College if members of the Club would kindly inform the College Office of any changes of their permanent addresses.

The College would welcome any corrections of this record, and any material for next year, especially from abroad. These should be addressed to THE PRAELECTOR, QUEENS' COLLEGE. The Praelector gratefully acknowledges the receipt of a number of items of news from members during the past year.

The dates given after the names of members of the College refer to their B.A. degrees, except that dates preceded by "M." are dates of Matriculation.

It is realized that this Record is far from complete. The acting Praelector will be glad to print such omissions as members of the Club can point out later.

THE COLLEGE

A large elm fell down in May, breaking the wall of the Fellows' Garden. Other elms in the Grove were then examined and it was found that some of them had to be condemned. The felling began with the largest tree of all near the bridge, on 22 May 1941. Already a small committee has begun planting.

The College has entertained at various times for varying periods members of the different services. A more detailed record may be published after the war.

Members of St Bartholomew's Hospital Medical College are still with us.

Mr E. A. Jones has catalogued the College Plate.

GIFTS TO THE COLLEGE

The Misses Ffolliot have presented us with a portrait of John Aylmer, Bishop of London.

Mr J. E. T. Pollard of Norwich has given us a collection of manorial documents and maps relating to the Parish of South Walsham, Norfolk.

We have also received a print of the College from the estate of the late Mrs French (née Wilkinson).

QUEENS' COLLEGE GRADUATES' CLUB

There is little to report for the current year. Thirty-five new members joined the Club; and Professor Hopwood, Professor Wormall, and Mr Willans, from among our visitors from St Bartholomew's Hospital Medical College, were elected to membership.

A sum of £65 was invested in 3% Defence Bonds, and the balance at the end of the year was £14. 2*s*. 6*d*.

E. A. MAXWELL, Hon. Treasurer.

Owing to the state of War the Annual General Meeting and Dinner of the Queens' College Club cannot take place in 1942.
