THE SOCIETY

We congratulate the President on his election as an Honorary Master of the Bench of the Honourable Society of the Inner Temple. He was also a member of a UNESCO Mission to the University of the West Indies in May and June.

Professor Sir Harold Bailey has been elected an Honorary Member of the Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute, Poona, and also an Associé Etranger in the Académie des Inscriptions et Belles-Lettres (one of the five Académies making up the Institut de France).

Mr Mathias has left us to become Chichele Professor of Economic History in the University of Oxford. Dr Beament is Draper's Professor of Agriculture as from October 1969.

Dr Cohen represented the College at the Centenary Celebrations in the University of Manchester (September 1968) to mark the election to a Chair there of Osborne Reynolds, M.A., LL.D., M.I.C.E., F.R.S. Formerly a Fellow of Queens', he had been appointed to the first Chair of Engineering at Owens College, Manchester.

We congratulate Dr Diggle, Dr Tillett, and Dr Phillips on receiving the degree of Ph.D.

Professor Trevaskis, formerly Fellow, is now Deputy Vice-Chancellor of the University of Adelaide and will be in Cambridge for 6 months during 1969.

The list of Fellows, now standing at 43, tells its own story of changes in Office and of arrivals and departures. Under the latter heading, we have been sorry to lose (as well as Professor Mathias) Dr Baldwin, who, however, remains as a Bye-Fellow, Mr Fraenkel, Mr Lawson, Mr Baker-Smith and Mr Silk. We give a warm welcome to Dr Platt, historian. Among the changes in College Office, mention should be made of the election of Mr Hart as Dean of College and Mr Hebblethwaite as Dean of Chapel. The D Society has ended its long and distinguished course of 269 meetings, which have spread its influence far beyond the bounds of the College. It is to be reconstituted experimentally under a new name (the E Society) for the rest of the present academic year under the Chairmanship of Mr Hebblethwaite.

Mr King has been granted leave of absence to be present at a meeting of the United Nations Development Commission in Ghana, and Dr Beament is leading a Royal Society Mission, also to Ghana, in the second half of February 1969.

A. D. B.

Sometime around Christmas last, a number of old members of the College received a circular letter from a self-appointed committee with the above heading. It drew our attention to the fact that 1969 marked Archie Browne's 60th year as a member of the College—and also of the Boat Club—and was also the occasion of his eightieth birthday. It went on to suggest that this called for some kind of celebration and a presentation to Archie to remind him of the facts.

Those written to were asked to contribute a maximum of one guinea towards this cause and were invited to attend an informal party in College on 15 February.

As a result, on a very cold February evening, the Erasmus Room saw the President and about 100 members of the College assembled from all over the country. Archie was presented with a very handsome silver salver marking the conclusion of 'his first sixty years' as a member of the College, and his health was proposed by Sir Leslie Rowan who recalled that he had first met a young don from Cambridge called Browne when a schoolboy at Tonbridge in 1925, and went on to remind all present what a substantial pillar of the College Archie had become.

Archie in an excellent reply made the typical remark that he felt we were all mad to come to Cambridge in such vile weather, and reminisced in his own very individual way about changes and growth in the College since 1909. He added that he felt that though much had changed, the best things about Queens' remained as good as they ever were, including its undergraduates. He thanked us all for coming.

The Committee, who organised the whole affair very efficiently, were mainly drawn from the Boat Club and the Engineering Faculty. They had had about 300 replies to their letter and in addition to purchasing the salver have about £250 in hand to date (15 February).

This surplus is to become 'the A.D.B. Fund' and will be devoted to any minor requirements for the general benefit of the College of Archie's choosing for which no other source of money exists.

The Committee wrote to as many old members as they themselves knew and this number was added to by others to whom their letter was first addressed. But they would like to apologise to many who did not receive their letter, and who would perhaps have liked to take part. They have asked the writer to stress that the fund is still open, and that any who care to contribute a maximum of one guinea should send it to 'The A. D. B. Fund' c/o the Bursar, Queens' College.

GIFTS AND BEQUESTS

Miss Edith Humby, sister of S. R. Humby (1910) who died in 1959, has left one half of her residual estate to the College. We have also received a bequest of £100 from Professor H. F. Lunn (1894) and one of £500 from Dr F. W. M. Draper, the income to be used for the Library.

We are grateful to Dr R. W. J. Maclure (1933) for a gift of £105.

We have received with gratitude a gift of $3,000 from the American Friends of Cambridge University.

On their resignations of Fellowships, Mr Fraenkel presented the Library with a set of volumes in Mathematics and Mr Baker-Smith presented a Bible for use in the Chapel.

THE LIBRARY

Mr Spearing was on sabbatical leave in the Lent and Easter terms of 1968, and Mr Diggle was Acting Librarian in his absence.

Benefactions were received during the year from Dr Ramsay, Mr Parmée, Dr Holloway, Mr Mathias, Professor Knights, Mr Mogridge, Mr Singh, Dr Wheatley, Professor Stein, Professor E. W. N. Mallows (1924), Messrs. A. H. and J. Nutter (1931 and 1959), and Mr R. L. Hills (1957).

The important collection of books about Cambridge presented by Mr Browne in 1967 has been constituted a separate section of the Old Library (U.9/10) as 'The A. D. Browne Collection'.

THE FABRIC

Major works have included the further extension of the central heating system to the whole of Friars Building, the re-surfacing of the Round and Fisher driveway and the repainting of the Dial. A new silver-room with wine-cellar below has been formed in the eastern end of the ground floor portion of the President's lodge with access via an unobtrusive door opening into Walnut Tree Court.

The first stages of a plan to reorganize kitchen facilities has resulted in the removal of out-dated boilers, which have been replaced by a hot-water supply from the main heating system. A doorway through to Silver Street has also been completed so that kitchen supplies and effluent will ultimately pass this way instead of by laborious trolleying over the bridge.

It is appropriate to add here that the Governing Body has recorded its deep appreciation of the enormous amount of work accomplished by Dr Cohen. He has resigned from the Office of Junior Bursar and is succeeded by Dr Wheatley.

STAFF

Mr Pinner resigned from the position of Head Porter at the end of the year, having been of great service to the College for 32 years. He has been succeeded by Mr Webb.

Mr Mace has retired from the Kitchen after 35 years of devoted service.

A good season for Queens' got off to an unpromising start in October with the IVs races. We entered two light IVs which both came to grief in the first round, one losing to Fitzwilliam—the joint winners—and the other narrowly losing to Emmanuel. No clinker IVs were entered this year. Out of several hopefuls entered for the University Trials, only C. J. Dalley qualified for the final sixteen, and he went on to row for the successful Goldie Boat. Last year we entered two roughly equal boats for the Fairbairn Cup Race, but this time we put all our best men into a single boat in an attempt to win it outright. The result was satisfactory if not startling, and we gained nine places in the league to finish fourth, our highest position so far in this event. The training camp at Henley for the 1st VIII coincided with the coldest week of the year, but it must have had the desired effect since a fit and very well-co-ordinated crew returned to go Head of the River in the Lents for the first time ever. The 2nd VIII held their place. In the 'away matches' Queens' continued in challenging style to finish

2nd in the Bedford Regatta behind Goldie, and 8th at Reading. Back at home for the Head of the Cam, we finished 2nd after what appeared from the bank to be a fairly leisurely row. A very determined crew lined up at the start of the Mays, anxious to make use of our strategic position of 2nd on the river, and they certainly made the best of it. Trinity 1st and 3rd were caught at Ditton Corner on the first day, the subsequent row-overs were never seriously challenged, and we finished Head to complete the Lent/May double. The 2nd VIII dropped one peg, while the three 'Gentlemen's Boats' booked a record number of bumps—against them. Five weeks later the VIII was at Henley for the last major event of the rowing calendar. We negotiated the first two rounds beating Imperial College and Nereus, but came to a sticky end in the semi-final with a disappointing loss to Trinity 1st and 3rd who proved themselves to be a fitter crew.

The performance of the 1st XV in the League competition in the Michaelmas term was rather disappointing due mainly to a lack of size in the forwards and to many injuries. After a close defeat by Pembroke, good performances against Trinity Hall and St. John's produced two wins which later turned out to be invaluable as a series of defeats ensued. This resulted in the last game of the term against Jesus becoming a relegation battle. Fortunately, we were able to field our strongest team (for the first time in the competition) and we won comfortably.

Better performances were produced by the 2nd and 3rd XVs, captained by P. Molineux and P. W. O'Brien respectively. The 2nd XV lost only one league match and the 3rd XV dropped only one point by drawing one game. Thus both teams deservedly gained promotion—the 2nd team into the third division and the 3rd team into the second.

J. S. Spencer represented the University against Oxford at Twickenham whilst D. W. J. Garrett and J. J. Page both played for the LX club against Oxford Greyhounds. In the Lent term, J. J. Page, G. Prescott and J. S. Spencer played regularly for the University team, the latter being appointed Hon. Sec. of the University club.

The 1st XV was greatly strengthened in the Lent term by the presence of the Blues, N. J. Cosh and J. S. Spencer and by J. J. Page, D. W. J. Garrett, J. P. Walmsley who played for Bedford and S. J. R. Dawkins who played for Warwickshire. This had the effect of completely transforming Queens' rugby, as was shown in the first round when we beat Emmanuel 18-3.

Two very hard fought games followed against St Catharine's and Christ's which both produced close results, but having survived these two games, a further win against Pembroke saw Queens' through to the final when we were to meet Fitzwilliam, when by the margin of 19-0, Queens' won Cuppers for the second time in three years.

Newly promoted, Queens' soon found their way in the 1st Division, aided by the arrival of several promising freshmen, and we finished in a creditable fourth position. After losing the first two matches to Emmanuel and Trinity, Queens' gradually improved, and finished the League fixtures with a 7-0 win over St Catharine's. The College gained a total of ten points from nine matches, and scored more goals than any other team in the 1st Division. As the Captain was playing for the Varsity and Falcons sides, C. Redshaw deputized in his absence.

For Cuppers, the side was strengthened by John Revill, the University Captain, and John Lewis and John Rowlinson from the Falcons. After beating Pembroke in the first round, Queens' were drawn against Fitzwilliam, the strongest side in the competition (and eventual winners). A very exciting and well-attended match resulted in a 3-3 draw, after extra time. Unfortunately Queens' did not reproduce this form in the replay, and Fitzwilliam won 5-2.

The 1st XI's overall record was: played 32, won 15, drawn 3 and lost 14. P. Green was the top goal-scorer with a total of 31.

The season did not start well. The advent of few good freshmen meant that too much depended on the remainder of the previous year, especially S. J. Lander, the secretary, and C. E. S. Willis, with the result that our League performances in the Michaelmas term were disappointing. Dispatched from Cuppers in the First round against Jesus, we ended the first half of the season with our first League victory over Trinity Hall. After Christmas, our league fortunes changed. Three arid draws and two slender victories established us firmly as a good middle of the table side. In the College six-a-side, we did well, strengthened by the arrival of M. W. Bawden and J. W. Riley from the Blue side, and were unlucky to be eliminated in the closing rounds by a strong Fitzwilliam side. The overall results: played 20, won 5, lost 11, drawn 4. Goals, for 23, against 53.

Queens' did not have a successful season. Knocked out of the inter-college competition at the first attempt by Emmanuel, we gained only 4 victories during the term. M. W. Bawden, the Captain-elect, relinquished the post before the season started, owing to pressure of work. Against Emmanuel, Queens' batting failed and we sadly missed the bowling of M. P. Pyman (absent through illness) and D. R. Aers (through pressure of work).

The team's record in other matches was not impressive—played 14; won 4, lost 4, drawn 6. M. R. Barlow showed admirable consistency with the bat, averaging 34·8 in 11 completed innings. Of the other batsmen, only M. W. Bawden, J. W. Riley and D. K. Merriott averaged more than 20.

The bowling attack was varied. The quicker bowlers headed the averages: P. Spencer, 12·6; S. J. Lander, 12·9; but it was the off-spinner, J. deG. Walford, who captured most wickets. N. J. Cosh gained his blue, and also went on the University tour.

M. R. Barlow, M. W. Bawden, S. J. Lander, M. P. Pyman, J. W. Riley and J. deG. Walford were members of the Crusaders.

Full colours were awarded to P. B. Lamb, J. Mulrenan, J. J. Page, P. Spencer and J. deG. Walford.

Queens' reached the final of cuppers for the first time in many years, and came 3rd behind Emmanuel and Trinity. St Catharine's and Clare were defeated in the first round.

Unfortunately, much of our athletic strength was committed to other sports teams, and so results in the Inter-College Relay and Field Events Matches of the Lent term were disappointing.

I. H. H. Perring again represented the University in the match against Oxford and was awarded a Full Blue for his 3rd place in the Javelin.

The Cross Country section, weakened by injuries, had to surrender a number of trophies which had been won last year. Queens' came 3rd in cuppers (M. Turner was again the individual winner) and 4th in Division I of the League Competition.

J. R. Haigh came 3rd in the Freshmen's Trial.

College Colours were awarded to A. D. Richards, A. T. Browne, R. J. Heanley, J. R. Haigh, Half Colours were awarded to M. J. Cuthbertson, R. L. Williamson, P. Spencer, A. Cooper, S. G. Barnes, and A. M. J. Blow.

Unfortunately, there was a further decline of the fortunes of the Tennis Club. Both teams enjoyed little success, and, consequently, both were relegated. The First team has now descended from Division I to Division III in successive seasons whilst the Second team has fallen to Division V. The first round of Cuppers provided the Club with a breath of success, but progress was not maintained and we were eliminated in Round Two.

The lack of success is partly attributable to the fact that several first-team players were unable to turn out regularly owing to pressure of work. Their places were filled by a number of freshmen, who, although keen, were not outstandingly talented.

However, in defiance of the general trend, P. N. Ayton again achieved considerable individual success, and he is to be congratulated upon being awarded a half-blue for playing in the doubles against Oxford.

Full colours were awarded to R. J. P. Church, P. I. Fairbotham, and D. N. Gilbert.

Half-colours were awarded to N. A. S. Andrew, M. R. Hearn, D. Sacker, M. J. Shaw, B. P. Stedman and D. K. Young.

At the A.G.M. in May 1968, it was decided that the person elected as 'Committee Member' should, henceforth, also perform the office of Treasurer (in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution of the new Union).

SWIMMING CLUB

Captain of Swimming and Water-Polo: N. T. A. COUPER

Secretary: J. R. DOUBELL

The year 1967-8 proved to be quite successful with the number of active members increasing enormously. The recruitment of freshmen was good, both in quality and in quantity, and this was shown when the team improved their final position in the League from 4th the year before, to 3rd, out of six Colleges, with the inclusion of four freshmen.

Our swimming ability was reflected in the Swimming Relays, in which we won all five freestyle relays, and three out of five medley.

In the Lent term there were so many members interested in playing Water-Polo that a Second Team was organized for the very first time. In the Water-Polo Cuppers, the First Team reached the Final, only to be beaten soundly by St Catharine's. We were more successful in the Swimming Relay Cuppers, coming 2nd in the Medley, but winning the Freestyle. In winning the Freestyle Relay Cup, our team broke the record in the heats, and then again in the final.

This swimming ability was again reflected in our performance in the Easter Term's Inter-College Gala. We were the only College able to call upon enough swimmers to enter two teams for this event. The First team gained second place, an improvement of one place over last year, this success being mainly due to the Club's depth of swimming ability, rather than to the success of outstanding individuals. The Second team beat three other Colleges' First teams, out of a total of seventeen teams entered, and this should ensure the future of the second team for some time.

G. R. Thwaites was again the outstanding swimmer of the team, and R. L. Williamson also swam for the University. It was difficult to single out any of the nine regular players in the successful water-polo team, and so full colours were awarded to A. J. C. Davies, C. E. Jones, D. A. Smart, and R. L. Williamson, and re-awarded to N. T. A. Couper, J. R. Doubell, W. R. Ellis, G. S. Haynes and G. R. Thwaites. Half colours were awarded to R. J. Brown, the Captain of the Second team.

G. R. Thwaites is again to be congratulated on another year's successful swimming for the University, and on gaining his third Blue.

SQUASH RACQUETS

Captain: M. A. LLOYD

Secretary: R. P. IMRAY

Generally speaking the 1968 Lent Term was unfortunate for Queens' squash at every level. Most of the college teams lost a division, the first team finished in the third, the second in the fifth. In Cuppers Queens' lost in the quarterfinals to Downing after having won the year before with almost the same side. The club matches were only slightly more successful: Queens' lost two and won one.

With the advent of this academic year, Queens' squash players found bright refinished courts with completely new lighting, largely due to the efforts of M. A. Lloyd, whose reasoning established the need for attention. Unfortunately, however, much of the side wall paint was only very temporary, and so far in the 1969 Lent Term, the courts are too wet to play on more often than not. It is to be hoped that further work may be done on the courts in the summer of 1969. (Possibly one of the problems with the 1968 work was that there was no summer in that year.)

The college teams have had a comeback in the first term of the present academic year. The first team lost only one match out of around thirty-five; in fact the lost games might be counted on one hand! Such was the competition in the third division, for strangely enough, the first team is not strong. The second team worked harder for their victories and sparked by freshman enthusiasm moved up a division as did the third team. The fourth team remained in their division. In club matches Queens' gave Bishops Stortford a good match and won; and afterwards the team, as usual, accepted the very generous hospitality at Bishops Stortford. Ipswich came to Queens', and with a few imported players, Queens' won a close match; afterwards Queens' entertained Ipswich at Madingley. Queens' lost to Imperial College at Queens' in a rather one-sided but hard-fought match.

Finally, P. N. Ayton should be congratulated for his Blue in the 1968 Varsity Match, a team which he captained, and for being chosen to the British International squash team as a reserve. And another Queensman, D. R. Aers, played in the 1968 Varsity Match which the Light Blues easily won.

RIFLE CLUB

Captain: C. J. LACY (Green Howards)

Secretary and Acting Treasurer: J. H. RUSTON, R.N.

Although there was only one subscribing member of CURA in the Club, we were able to muster enough enthusiastic volunteers to enter seven teams in the Inter-College Falling Tile Competition—the London Scottish Trophy—in May. However, even at the London Scottish meeting, enthusiasm does not make up for lack of skill and experience; only the first team survived the first round. The 1st IV were without doubt the most experienced team in the whole competition, and were very unlucky to be eliminated in the semi-final by St Catharine's by the narrowest possible margin. Queens' 2nd IV had the unenviable pleasure of losing, on a reshoot, to Pembroke 1st who went on to win in grand style.

1st IV: 2/Lt C. J. Lacy, S/Lt J. H. Ruston, O/Cdt J. R. Watt, O/Cdt S. M. D. Hill.

S. M. D. Hill shot for the University v. The City of London and the Regular Army during the Summer and also went on the CURA tour of Scotland, in June. He represented both CUOTC and the University at the TARA and NRA Meetings at Bisley in July, in the Service Rifle and LMG events.

CHESS CLUB

President: D. WELCH Secretary: P. A. LEONARD

The Chess Club had a very successful season. A strong nucleus from the previous year was supplemented by several keen freshmen with the result that we could run three teams in both the Cambridge and District, and the Cambridge University Leagues. In the latter the first team played consistently well through the year to gain promotion to Division I, and four of the five players represented the University in various matches.

In Cuppers we reached the quarter-final for the first time in years, but were unlucky to encounter a full-strength Jesus team, who narrowly beat us in an exciting match. Colours were awarded to A. Abakuks and I. H. Dennis.

1968-9

President: C. H. HURST Captain: I. H. DENNIS
Fixtures Secretary: A. ABAKUKS

TABLE TENNIS

Captain: I. M. GODFREY

Secretary: D. SACKER

The Table Tennis Club again suffered from a lack of new talent. None of the six teams finished in the upper half of their divisions, though only two were relegated, the first team again just holding their place in the First Division. This was not as great a failure as it must seem, however, since five teams were playing in the first three divisions of the University League, a legacy of the abundance of good players three or four years ago.

In Cuppers Queens' again lost in the first round, this time to St John's.

Captain: D. SACKER

Secretary: R. M. MILLER

BADMINTON

Captain: G. S. HAYNES

Despite a lack of freshmen this season, the Club achieved a considerably better record than last, winning five and drawing one out of eight matches, and retaining its position in the Third Division.

Outstanding players were D. R. Langslow, an old blue, and G. S. Haynes, a Cockerel Club member. College colours were awarded to G. S. Haynes, G. Duffy, V. M. S. Oh and A. Kamaludin.

In Badminton Cuppers, Queens' reached the semi-final against Downing, where D. R. Langslow lost to C. H. Oon and G. S. Haynes lost to R. Droy.

Captain: G. S. HAYNES

Secretary: D. L. BURN

GOLF

Captain: H. A. D. DE SILVA

Secretary: R. J. BAILEY

Several matches were played against other Colleges during the Michaelmas and Lent Terms, but our match record could only be described as average. Although there were no players of outstanding ability in the College, which was unrepresented at the University level, the standard of golf was reasonable. There was considerable support for the Society within the College, and, unlike some Colleges, we could always produce a complete team on the day.

Secretary: N. B. MACFARLANE

SAILING CLUB

Captain: A. R. TRICKETT

Secretary: J. OLSTEAD

College sailing flourished during the year, with a record membership, and the College Firefly put to good use. With a bigger, faster boat next year, the LARK, there is every reason to hope that this trend will be continued.

The College had three members sailing regularly for University teams, and the College Captain was also Vice-President of the Cruising Club. The College team went as far as the semi-finals in the Cuppers Knock-out Competition and ended in the middle of the Second Division in the League.

1968-9

Captain: J. OLSTEAD

Secretary: R. G. KEYWORTH

CROSS COUNTRY CLUB

Captain: P. E. RADLEY

Secretary: J. R. HAIGH

This has been a most successful season, Victories were recorded in the League and Cuppers competitions and in the Inter-College Cross-country Relay. We improved our own course record in winning the Selwyn College road relay and were the first University College in the Hyde Park road relay.

Two individuals achieved national success. Chris Garforth proved himself the finest cross-country runner of his age in Britain by winning the National Youth and Inter-County Championships on adjacent weekends. Mike Turner captained the England team that won the International Championship at Clydebank, Scotland.

The quality of debates during the year was somewhat varied, but an encouraging feature was the number of freshmen who participated in the Society's activities.

In the first debate of the Michaelmas term, the motion, 'This House believes that youthful protest is a waste of time', was defeated by a large majority. Later in the term, the monarchy emerged unscathed from a somewhat ambiguous debate, the formative influence in English history was decided to be the public house rather than the public school, and the Society declared its intention of investing its common wealth in the Common Market.

The first debate of the Lent term, on the motion, 'This House prefers Marks and Spencer to Marx and Engels', was the best of the year, with a particularly lively and stimulating discussion from the floor. In the later debates, the educational and architectural virtues of Cambridge were upheld, and the Society ensured its continued existence by refusing to emigrate.

During the year, a Balloon Debate was held with Downing College, and a joint debate with Newnham College.

An innovation at the end of the Easter term was a Presidential Debate, in which four Ex-Presidents debated the motion, 'This House believes that Presidents are unnecessary'. Voting for and against the motion was, in fact, equal, but the President made his position secure for the next term by casting his deciding vote against the motion.

The highlights of the year were two very successful public concerts which were both well-attended and notable for the enthusiasm of the performers.

In the Lent Term R. S. Hickox conducted a concert in Great St Mary's Church, at which the soloists were Norma Burrowes (Soprano), Richard Shephard (Counter-Tenor), Peter Knapp (Tenor), Graham Kay (Baritone) and Nigel Beavan (Bass). The programme consisted of two verse-anthems by Purcell, O sing unto the Lord a new song and My Beloved Spake, and the Cantata Saint Nicolas by Benjamin Britten. The part played by the Choristers of Jesus College Chapel in Saint Nicolas was greatly appreciated.

The May Week Concert in Hall assumed, as now seems customary, a light-hearted and even impudent air, and was enthusiastically received in the spirit of this Week. The Orchestra, conducted by M. D. Williams, with A. B. W. Nethersell (piano), played the undisguisable (even in Cyrillic script) Warsaw Concerto; J. F. White (baritone) and N. F. Jamieson (Tenor), with a male-voice chorus, performed poems from Lord of the Rings, set to music by C. R. Burn; another 'college composer', M. D. Williams, rendered his Fuga Academica. We were delighted to welcome Julia Parker (Soprano), who, with J. T. Green (clarinet) and A. B. W. Nethersell (piano), performed Schubert's The Shepherd on the Rock. After the interval, Dr Beament's The Briary Bush (Op. 32) — 'an unstable song-cycle for narrators, soprano, tenor, chorus and eighteen solo instruments' — was presented, and, despite the composer's claims to self-indulgence, proved first-class entertainment to the audience as well as to the performers.

In the Michaelmas Term a Freshmen's Concert was held, at which P. F. Newman and D. Field performed—it was not as well attended as it might have been. Towards the end of the Easter Term a group of madrigal singers under the direction of R. S. Hickox performed several numbers under the Erasmus Building, despite the heavy rain. Organ recitals have continued regularly throughout the year, and we have welcomed organists from both outside and inside Cambridge, including R. S. Hickox (organ scholar), C. R. Burn and B. Wood from Queens'.

The year's activities opened with an evening of Freshmen Readings, which were felt to be of a particularly high standard. Later in the Michaelmas Term the Society presented as its public production 'Events while guarding the Bofors Gun' by John McGrath. This was produced by P. R. Bloodworth and S. C. Palmer, and was staged in the Fitzpatrick Hall. The traditional Smoking Concert took a new form this year, being incorporated in the party following this production.

While continuing the usual internal activities with an evening of experimental plays, The Bats extended the scope of its work by mounting a public production in the Lent Term for the first time for some years. N. A. Lyndon produced Ann Jellicoe's 'The Sport of My Mad Mother', using a transverse stage in the middle of the hall, with audience seating raised up on both sides.

The experiment proved most effective, and this fast and exciting production was well received.

In May Week S. E. Wakelam produced 'The Winter's Tale'. Actors and audience alike derived great pleasure from the delightful 'comical-pastoral' scenes of the play.

All these productions proved financial successes, the last one making a handsome profit. The accumulated funds have enabled the society to extend its assets in lighting equipment, and the hire of this to other societies is now extensive.

The society would like to take this opportunity of expressing its warmest gratitude to Dr E. A. Maxwell for his long and diligent service as Senior Treasurer. Dr. Maxwell was the committee's guest at a dinner held in his honour, and a presentation was made to him. We also welcome Professor L. C. Knights as our new Senior Treasurer.

This has been a successful year for the Bats, both in reputation and in finance, and the Committee hopes to see the trend in experimentation and expansion continued.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

Graduate Club activities continued during 1967-8 with a number of evening meetings in the Angevin Room. Two Fellows of the College with a special connection with Graduates—Professor Knights and Sir Harold Bailey—were entertained at two of our regular Thursday evening dinners; Mr Hart gave us a talk entitled 'The King's Head', and Mr Raymond Leppard, of Trinity, spoke on the subject of 'Musical Mayhem'. A tasting of Alsatian wines was also held in conjunction with Dolamore's, which proved to be extremely popular.

At the time of writing, there have recently been two changes which particularly affect Graduate Students. After having been Graduates' Tutor for a little over a year, Mr. Mathias has left us to take up a Professorship at Oxford, and Dr. Bowett has become his successor. The other change is an increase in the Angevin Room's grant from £40 to £100 per year, thus enabling us to keep up with the ever increasing demand for more facilities. We are now able to preserve the Angevin Room's position as a popular social centre for Graduates during the Vacation as well as during term.

THE QUEENS' COLLEGE UNION

During the year, the organisation of the United Clubs was modified to include some representative functions extending beyond their traditional interests. Informal discussions which involved all the principal officers of the Clubs led to a draft constitution for a Queens' College Union subsuming the Clubs, and this received a two-thirds majority of all resident members in a referendum in the Lent Term 1968. An Extraordinary General Meeting of the Clubs served to tidy a number of details and the new constitution came into effect from 1 August 1968. The new officers were pre-elected in the May Term.

Briefly speaking, the senior body of the new Union is a Council, consisting of an Undergraduate President, Secretary and Treasurer, and two representatives of each year, elected in secret ballot, together with four Fellows appointed from the Governing Body of whom two are respectively Vice-President and Senior Treasurer. Two working Committees serve the policy-making Council: a J.C.R. Committee made up of the undergraduates on the Council and other representative undergraduates, and a Treasurers' Committee closely corresponding to the Finance Committee of the Clubs. The changes have not caused any alteration of Club bye-laws and each Club retains its authority to regulate its own affairs.

Elections to the Council and other offices were warmly contended. The committees have been largely concerned in their first months of operation with social and general amenities in College and have proved valuable additional means of communication between the Governing Body and the resident members.

The year began with a reading of the Frogs of Aristophanes. Mr J. Easterling of Trinity spoke on 'Greek Science'; and Dr J. Holloway of Queens' ended the term's programme by showing slides of Greece.

In the Lent Term Mr A. D. Fitton Brown of Corpus spoke on 'Three treatments of Antigone', examining the plays of Sophocles, Alfieri, and Anouilh. Dr J. Chadwick of Downing investigated Aegean history during the period 1500-1000 B.C.; and Professor R. M. Cook illustrated with slides a talk entitled 'Changing taste in Greek sculpture'. At the final meeting Professor D. L. Page read a sparkling paper on 'Odysseus and Circe'.

At the annual dinner in the Easter Term the guests were Mr Fitton Brown, Dr Chadwick, Professor F. R. D. Goodyear, and Mr R. V. Kerr.

DINNER IN THE NORTH-WEST

The Annual Dinner for Queens' men in the North-West was held for the eighteenth successive year on 5 April 1968, at the Patten Arms, Warrington.

The Guest of Honour was the President of the College, and 46 members were present to welcome him, including the Bishop of Blackburn, who presided.

The next Dinner will be held on 28 March 1969, again in Warrington, at the Patten Arms.
